- Dissociated love theory
- He dissociated from himself
- That's why he's not responding to his puppies cry
- He can't even take care of himself, something in the past, didn't respond to him and now he is gone from himself. In the astral or somewhere else, unable to respond to the needs expressed by the tribe
- Slave driver like mentality
- Your only valuable if you work for us
- Don't extort people, if you can't organize a team of authentic trainers, without guilting and shaming them, then don't invite people and say your gonna feed
- Being able to talk about story ideas

 - Talking about Alister Crowley jacking off on a haunted houses walls each 77 times to entice spirits and his nightmares of a black house with satin red bed room, a picture of him with a bowl of blood
 - Asking him if turtle was a steak brotherhood and he said just to ask him to show me his horns
 - My image in highschool self portrait, jumping, throwing horns
 - He said he didn't want to be a slave
 - Didn't know he was joining a commune
 - I agree, which, the slave joke was explained, but also had the exact same experiences at a commune and elsewhere

They broadcast memes, gifs, songs and video clips at a frequency not detectible by our typically conscious mind

- Just like the advertisement agencies have and continue to do
- But this is on a wave length, they have discovered, transferable by radio, and only perceivable at the neon/black light / psychedelic active imagination overlay.

The social engineers

- The men and their businesses, brotherhoods and sisterhood factions
- The angels
 - Always social engineering interactions and whole storylines
- The demons

- What purpose due such evils serve in a heaven of light?
- They serve as indicators, how far mama spirit has descended into a primal nature and dizzying inability to locate it coordinate himself in a logical manner it of his head. Like a child who screams and smashes things because they cannot figure it out, and know someone will it they smash hard enough.

Her name stands for idol

Some think that means evil

She told me it stood for perfection

A religious man

Who names his daughter idol

How interesting

She saw her dad's face in the sun

But she wanted it to go away

Smoke sets it

Down the mountain she went

Fire flies glowing

On finger tips

To a land of animals

This morning, Gabriel told me about how sanim would rather kill the plants then cure them. He also talked about how it was no big deal about my thing, because her boyfriend is wanted everywhere on guns and drugs charges. And also, he is from Rio de Janeiro and has many very gangster friends who do things with meaning, and have a good heart.

- He also said, thank God I did not come last week after she told him she did not need him. And I thought, wow,

Monad came up wielding an ace, I told him off my commune experience seeing a here's Johnny image, he told me there was two cougars chasing a bear.

I told him animals scare me war less, he said he could take a man easily. But I said an animal is natural and most men are motivated by unnatural reasons programmed by other men

- I also told him about the guy looking for his daughter, but who I couldn't take seriously because he was just getting high.
 - A father looking for his daughter but just getting high?
 - Kinda like what people might think of me .. of it wasn't already obvious enough

Compared to the idea she has a medium she wants me to work for. And I need to know I ^{only} work for all creator, monad God, earth mother and father sky. Tis the name. Argues with the child, to produce contradictions in the name. Pay attention to the Trinity. The id, the temptor and the ego, the innocent child, the super ego is the internalized aggression or god complex, the collective conscious. Trismigistus. Whole brain dialogue goes to one. You are the one.

Do you really want to eat something you love?

I am you. You are me.

A run over possum was found on the road, eating itself.

He didn't actually run over two jack rabbits in the road. Because I wanted to see the light.

Oh so he doesn't care about life? The fruits of his labor? He's just a man, trying to overcome his own hatred for himself. Which someone else gave to him. Can't you understand? He doesn't want to push something on you if you don't want it. He feels that they don't love him.

Humans are not insects even if they think like them.

Just because I smash insects doesn't mean I want to smash humans. But I can understand why they are like insects. Because they were institutionalized.

And even if they want to be insects. That is fine, so long as they don't hurt each other.

I litter because I don't think you guys care. Not because I don't. I just realize with all the trash around on the streets and gutters and even on my hikes that my litter is so small in comparison and also that if we actually really want to, we can all stop producing litter and toxic waste products that hurt our earth.

I wrote this after I saw a fly, and I didn't want to flick it. But it invades my privacy and jumps on me continuously. I am too sensitive. My mama had to fix my socks and cut the tags on my shirt, as well as find all my lost belongings.

I wish I could have that much compassion. But I'm just a man.

I love my whole earth family, my mom and dad, thank you. The family narratives and generational trauma are engraved in time forever.

I call on the spirit of Opal whitely to know my heart and assist me in bridging the gap between all races of man so that we recognize our familiarities.

Meeting your dream shadow with love requires that you walk a mile in their shoes, not by taking their shoes, but by feeling your own hearts ability to sense someone else.

think of the feedback systems required to build that rocket. Raw materials mining, àassembly lines, energy sources, With complete inputs and outputs.

Not just the blueprint of the phallic object. But the whole system required to build it, and it's function for the whole system.

Show me that blueprint, or I can build one for you if you want, it's a good idea actually to help privileged first world globalist empire children understand the artistic complexity of their modern attention-and-resource deficits, plaguing not just them but a whole world.

I told him I was gonna write a book about how the CIA Coopted divine intervention, family pattern face seeking, pattern revealing synchronicity

FB post draft:

Daniel found me in the graveyard

He was yelling at me in a panic

Tim, Tim, your mom has been looking for you

Wait what? I'm not Tim

What? Whose Tim?

I heard about him his mom said he drank allot but loved God, she called a shelter to make sure he was alive

Hahaha I said damn, my mama ain't never worried bout me like that

Okay so somehow Daniel let Tim use my phone and both of their Mamas were looking for them.

So Daniel was fine.

I found Tim the next week at a popular spot

Tim! Dude your mom was looking for you!? Have you contacted her yet?

He apologized for crying and told me the withdrawal from his drinking was so bad he couldn't stop. He was drinking a fifth a day.

Oh my God I was glad to see him, and let him use my phone charger, he hasn't been able to charge his phone, once he did he contacted his mom.

The ugliest thing I discovered about this. The most terrifying. Tim was also a vet like Daniel and the culture of war profits off their ptsd and rehab. But worse. Which this is definitely worse? Tim was talking about how his mom bought life insurance and if he died from his alcoholism she would get 200k...

I was like wtf!!!??!! Immediately recommending he go to the same rehab center Daniel went to, all expenses paid by his service.

Anyways the point is, if you feel as shitty as Tim does for fucking up a relationship he had years ago and like your worth nothing, so why not just die for the sake of paying
